BULGARIA SURE TO JOIN CENTRAL EMPIRES

Within Fortnight Balkan Kingdom Will Be Actively At War

By Henry Wood.
(United Press staff correspondent.)
London, Oct. 2.—Within a fortnight Bulgaria will join the Austro-Germans in a combined attempt to cut through the Balkans to Constantinople, according to reliable information today. The plan is to squeeze Serbia between three armies. The Austro-Germans would attack the western and northern frontiers, while the Bulgarians would hurl their forces from the east. These forces would occupy Macedonia unless the aid of allied troops to the Serbians gives promise that these attempts would be repelled. The allied capitals have no further doubt as to Bulgaria's intentions. They have accepted Foreign Minister Grey's statement of Teutonic aid in Bulgaria's mobilization as a certain forerunner of her entrance on the side of the central powers. The London press viewed Ferdinand's decision as a case of "backing the wrong horse." The fact that the Greek parliament voted the war bills convinces the allies that Greece will aid them when Bulgaria attacks. Rumania's position is still doubtful, though Bucharest continues to report military preparations.

JERSEY CATTLE MEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR AT FAIR

Many Breeders Will Exhibit Herds Now At Fair At National Show

While a few of the Oregon breeders of Jersey cattle who have exhibits at the Oregon state fair may not enter the Panama-Pacific livestock exhibition at San Francisco, on account of the revival of the foot-and-mouth disease scare, many of them signified their intention of entering the national competition with their exhibits at a meeting of the Oregon Jersey Cattle club, which was held at the fair grounds this afternoon. The meeting was presided over by President C. C. Dixon, of Shedd, and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, E. L. Burkhardt, Albany; Warren Gray, first vice-president; Frank Doerfler, of Silverton, second vice; Frank Laughary, Monmouth, secretary-treasurer, and W. H. Smith, Oregon City, director. Upon motion of Congressman C. A. McArthur, of Rickreall, the club voted to open a campaign for the addition of more members with a view of getting every Jersey breeder in the state into the organization and widening the scope of its influences for the advancement and protection of the industry. Secretary Laughary was directed to correspond with the American Jersey Cattle club, with which the state club is affiliated, and which keeps a record of all of the Jersey breeders of the state, to get the names of all Oregon breeders for the purpose of soliciting their membership. During the discussion of this subject the fact was brought out that there were more registered-for-meet Jerseys (those capable of producing 423 pounds of butter fat and better per year) in Oregon than any other state in the union, outside of New York state. There are over 200 Jersey cattle on exhibition at the state fair owned by 23 Oregon exhibitors which is the largest state exhibit of Jersey cattle in the country. There was a full representation of the exhibitors present and a general discussion of matters of interest to Jersey breeders was participated in during which general satisfaction and good feeling was expressed as a result of the award of premiums and all were pleased with the success of the fair and its management.

Illabe Country Club Will Hold Meeting

President Bush of the Illabe Country club has issued a call for a general membership meeting of the club for 5 p. m. next Monday evening, in the auditorium of the Commercial club. This will be the regular annual meeting of the club, and there will be much important business to be transacted. Among this will be the election of the officers for the coming year. This meeting follows the meeting of the board of directors which was held last week. Practically all of the board were in attendance, and each was enthusiastic over the prospects for the club for the coming year. It was decided to make plans for an aggressive membership campaign immediately to follow the general meeting, and to make it a point to get new men and women interested in the game of golf. The board felt that with the splendid condition of the links, and the promised road improvement, there would be a great demand for club privileges this coming fall and winter. During the past three months, the links have suffered from the dry weather and although there has been a steady attendance of players vacation trips have detracted from the popularity of the game. Golf is considered the ideal fall and winter game in this climate and it is planned to open the season with a rush.

Postoffices Are Robbed In Polk County Towns

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Dallas, Ore., Oct. 2.—Wednesday night burglars entered the postoffice at Monmouth and after tearing open several parcel post packages left without taking anything of value. Entry was gained by battering in the front door of the building with a heavy timber. Last week the postoffice and store at Buena Vista was broken into but nothing valuable taken. The sheriff's office has been hot on the trail of the burglars all week and arrests may be expected at any time. About a year ago several postoffices throughout the country were broken into and much valuable property taken and it is supposed that the same gang is at work in the county again this year.

General Increase In Lumber Price Predicted

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—A general increase in the price of all grades of lumber is forecasted here today by the action of mill men comprising the membership of the West Coast Lumber Manufacturers in raising the prices of slash grain flooring and drop siding respectively $1 and $1.50 per thousand. Lumbermen expect an active market in the spring. A vote of all the manufacturers on the coast will be sought at once to determine whether prices on the differential list of the association shall take November 1. If a majority favor the advance, it will mean a general increase in all lumber prices.

If it's for sale, a Journal Want Ad will sell it.

CHILDREN ASSUME IMPORTANT PART AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS

Tiny Tots Are Provided With Amusement While the Tired Mother Rests

While all exhibits on display at the Oregon state fair are of educational value there are some among them which go even further than this and serve the double purpose of being not only instructive in nature but also render valuable physical service in a big institution such as this. Prominent among these stand out the children's playgrounds, the baby nursery and, last but not least—the congress of mothers and parent-teachers association booth. The children's playground has given very valuable service in connection with the state fair not only in furnishing a healthful source of amusement for the small and half grown children but it teaches a lesson in the best kinds of play for the physical and mental development of the child. The baby nursery, in the old pavilion, is not only a boon to tired mothers in affording them relief from the burden of having to worry and fret with a restless and fretful baby, but it also serves as a small kindergarten where the little tots are given their initial training in the use of their hands and brains. Both of these departments are in charge of trained directors and nurses who are equipped for any emergency, in case of accident or sudden illness, and who are competent to teach the child the best and most instructive methods of utilizing the plaything equipment. In the case of the Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teachers' association booth, of which Mrs. H. L. Vail, of Portland, is superintendent, all sorts of paraphernalia are provided for the amusement and instruction of the public generally in the science of rearing children to become useful men and women and also ready means for providing prompt "first aid to the injured relief" in the event of accident. This department is under the direct supervision of Miss Margaret Wishart, a trained nurse of the Salem hospital who is putting in her third year at the state fair in the capacity of nurse and demonstrator of the different apparatus and medical equipment. From a practical standpoint this department has upon numerous occasions rendered valuable first aid in cases of accidents, which have occurred on the grounds this year, and has proved its value as a necessary adjunct to a successful state fair. On one occasion one of the cooks in a fair grounds concession suffered a severe burn of the arm and hand as the result of a gas stove explosion and the injured member was given prompt relief through treatment given by Miss Wishart. Wednesday evening a little boy became separated from his parents and lost and he was taken to the booth and made comfortable and sent to his home, out of the city, on the following morning at the expense of the department.

Vaudeville Program at The Grand Tomorrow

The Portland papers are unanimous in favorable comment on the Sullivan & Considine vaudeville bill which has been on at the Empress the past week and which comes to Salem at the Grand tomorrow for two nights and Sunday matinee. Six attractions comprise the bill to be shown here, headlining Little Caruso and his company in a pretty musical singing and scenic attraction. Bertie Herron and Milt Arnman live the bill with their clever comedy and minstrel offering. A suffragette sketch, entitled "A Quiet Woman" by Stanfield, Hall and Lorraine, is full of hearty laughs. Owen Wright, the American humorist and mimic, imitates steamboats, locomotives, musical instruments and numerous other familiar sounds. Otto Hicks and Dolly Seymour offer a singing, dancing and comedy number, and the Ambler Bros. is a sensational act as the world's best equilibrists. Prices will be as heretofore—25¢, 35¢ and 50¢, with a bargain matinee Sunday at 25¢, any seat.

Willamette Plays O. A. C. At Corvallis Today

The Willamette university football team is laboring with the Oregon Agricultural college huskies at Corvallis this afternoon in a soft muddy field which will prove a serious handicap to the light Willamette squad. Coach Mathews took almost his entire squad with him to the game in order that they might absorb some football knowledge even if they were not put into the fray. The O. A. C. squad is an unknown quantity this year as far as the conference strength is concerned but Willamette left this city with little hopes of humbling the Aggies. The Willamette is substantially the same as the one that worked against the Willamette Alumni in the first half of the game last Friday. Next Saturday Willamette plays the Albany college team in this city.

TRELLIS POLES SHIPPED

Fourteen car loads of trellis poles for hop yards owned by T. A. Lively and company, of Salem, are being shipped from Eugene by Edwards Bros., of the upper Willamette country. The poles are each 22 feet long and were cut in the woods on the upper river near Landux and floated to Eugene, where they were snaked out on the north bank of the stream near the Ferry street bridge. The poles are hauled to the Oregon Electric cars for shipment to a station south of Salem. Edwards Bros. have already shipped half of the poles and will have the remainder shipped within a short time. Eugene Register.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

District Attorney Ringo today filed the appellant's brief in the supreme court in the case of the State of Oregon against Ernest Underwood. Underwood was charged with attempting to solicit for an immoral woman and was indicted on this charge by the grand jury. When the case came up for trial Underwood's attorneys knocked out the indictment on the grounds that it did not mention the lady's name as the indictment said "Jane Doe." Judge Kelly sustained the demurrer of the attorneys for the defendant and the state appealed to the supreme court. Attorneys Smith & Shields are representing the defendant.

today citing Mrs. M. A. Hotelling, of Woodburn, to appear in the county court room Monday, October 18, and show cause why N. A. Hufford should not be appointed guardian of her estate. Her estate consists of personal property valued at $1,100. Mrs. Hotelling is 82 years of age and held to be incompetent to transact her affairs.

Jackson Bonter, colored, aged 82 years, was committed to the Oregon State hospital this morning after an examination by Dr. R. D. Byrd. Sentencing was given as the cause of the fixed delusions which affected the patient.

Harvey Wells, as receiver for the Oregon Horticultural Fire Relief of Oregon, has filed a petition at the office of the county clerk asking permission to bring suit against all of the policy holders to recover the assessments due and unpaid upon their policies. The policy holders in many instances have paid the last assessment levied but some refused to pay upon the representation of the committee in Portland of policy holders who profess to entertain the belief that the assessment can be beaten in the courts. The granting of permission to bring suits against the policyholders in arrears will open up the controversy and will doubtless result in further litigation.

Judge William Galloway, in department No. 2 of the circuit court of this county today handed down a decree in the case of W. A. Wise, Dora Wise, and Georgia Wise, against H. W. Wagner and Sophia Wagner. This was a suit to quiet title to lots 1, 2 and 3 of tract 16 Wise acres containing 3 1/2 acres which the defendants purchased upon a contract but according to the findings of fact failed to keep up their payments and forfeited their title to the property in question. By the decree the fee simple title to the property is vested in the plaintiffs.

Marriage licenses were issued today at the office of the county clerk to: Jesse A. Hendershot, a Stayton confectionery dealer, and Marie Williamson, a Stayton clerk; Ernel E. Cramer, a Silverton laborer, and Minnie Belle Van Cleave, a Silverton telephone operator; and to George Merritt Faber, a Portland salesman, and Mary L. Brown, of this city.

"Gee! I'd have a birthday every day if we had Loju!"

—Give the children something new—let them enjoy this new fruit juice—the delicious juice of Oregon's famous Loganberries! It's the same delicious flavor you used to find in wild blackberries. The Oregon Loganberry is a cross between the mountain blackberry and the red raspberry. We press the juice as the berries come from the field, wet with the morning dew.

Tell Your Grocer to Send You a Few Bottles of

Loju

Loganberry Juice

—Have some of it ready for little impromptu occasions. See the way its delicious flavor will delight everyone. "Loju," like no other fruit juice, contains the natural citric acid. You can compare "Loju" flavor with nothing else—it isn't the sweet, insipid flavor, neither does it leave that heavy, sluggish after-effect. —"Loju" is light—crisp, with enough of that acid tang to make you want a second glass.

Try "Loju" in the individual bottle. It is served at the state fair, and all of Salem's fountains and Sweet-Shops.
